

$10,000 DAMAGE SUIT IN COURT

PLAINTIFF CLAIMS MALPRACTICE
AGAINST OSTEOPATH

SENT HERE FROM ALBANY

Blondina Jones Pickering is Suing
W. E. Hartsock of Albany—Hotly Contested Case.

The $10,000 damage suit of Blondina Jones Pickering, a minor, by Ralph H. Pickering, her next friend against W. E. Hartsock, here in a change of venue from Gentry County, started to trial this morning in circuit court. Hartsock has been on osteopathy at Albany for the past few years and the plaintiff alleges she suffered injuries as a result of his unskillful treatment in a confinement case and that her health and general condition will not be good until she undergoes an operation all due to the negligence of the defendant.

Many of the physicians in Albany as well as other towns in that county have been subpoenaed as witnesses for the plaintiff. The Hartsock, the defendant, has as one of his attorneys, his former instructor, Dr. E. M. Perdue of Kansas City, who in addition to being a member of the bar is also head of the Central Osteopathic school at Kansas City which school Hartsock graduated from. Dr. Perdue is well versed as a medical and osteopathy authority and will cross examine the physicians who will testify for the plaintiff. As was stated by one of the attorneys, the contest will be between the M. D.'s on one side and the osteopaths on the other.

After the jury had been selected and the opening statement of Fielding Stapleton of Albany, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff, had been given, one of the jurors, H. B. Glines, notified Judge Dawson that he had a similar case as was outlined by Mr. Stapleton. The court permitted the defense to make their statement and then excused the jury and told the attorneys for the plaintiff and the defendant about the incident and that the juror should be excused. It was agreed by the attorneys that three other men should be selected and that one from this list be chosen to take the place of the excused man. All of these men had heard the opening statements of the plaintiff and defense. William R. Hughes was picked to take the place of Mr. Glines on the jury. The other members of the jury are: John Gallagher, C. D. Smith, Ham Lowry, Neom Hagins, Henry Seipel, Virgil Grooms, T. D. Hornbuckle, T. H. Acklin, Arlo Vanscoy, H. C. Irwin and George Daniels.

The attorneys for the plaintiff in addition to Mr. Stapleton are Bruce DuBois of Grant City and McCaffrey & Cook of this city. For the defendant, the attorneys are C. E. Ernst of Albany, Judge W. C. Ellison and Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison of this city, and Dr. Perdue.

It is expected the case will take two days to try.

TWO SHOWS NECESSARY FOR SCHOOL FILMS AT BUR. JCT.

A Large, Enthusiastic Crowd Sees
County School Pictures—High School There Very Progressive

A crowd so large that it was necessary to run two shows of the county school film, greeted the picture, "And the Truth Shall Make You Free," at Burlington Junction last night. A splendid reception was given to the pictures there and all were enthusiastic about the work.

The Burlington Junction High School is one of the most progressive in the county. They were the first school in the county to buy a moving picture projector and show educational movies from the University of Missouri. They are now the only high school in the county publishing a school paper.

M. E. SOUTH MEMBERS APPROVE OF PLANS FOR NEW CHURCH

Small Crowd Present Last Night, But Much Enthusiasm Shown Over
New Project.

On account of the bad weather only a small crowd was present last night at the mass meeting held at the M. E. Church, South, to discuss the plans for building a new church. But the crowd was enthusiastic and much interest was manifested in the proposed project. At the close of the meeting a vote of confidence or approval in the matter was taken, and with the exception of two, who did not vote, it was unanimous in approval.

The indications of the meeting seem to point to the success of the plans for the new church. The Southern Methodist conference has voted to apportion $25,000 for use here in building the church providing the members match it with a like sum. There will probably be three or four more mass meetings held to further the work. The next one has been called for next Wednesday night by the Rev. B. F. Cline, pastor.

BAPTIST CHURCH GIVEN PIPE ORGAN

STANDARD TWO MANUAL INSTRUMENT TO BE PICKED SOON

GIVEN BY CAPT. HYSLOP

Donor Has Been Church Member For Almost Fifty Years—Church
Clerk 27 Years.

Capt. Chas. Hyslop, one of the oldest members of the First Baptist Church of Maryville, surprised the congregation at its mid-week meeting last night by announcing that he would give the church a pipe organ, if such a gift would be acceptable. Representatives of two organ companies will be here soon and the organ will be installed as soon as selection is made.

This generous gift was made by one of the oldest and most loyal members of the church. Mr. Hyslop has been a member of the First Baptist Church here for almost fifty years. Only two other living members, Mrs. Sebee Rewley and Mrs. Mary Graham, have been members of the church longer than Mr. Hyslop. For twenty-seven years he was clerk of the church board.

In his talk last night, Mr. Hyslop spoke of the history of church music, and mentioned the use of the tuning fork in earlier days, then came down to the use of the pipe organ of the present time. The Rev. J. A. Cooper, pastor, then announced that although it was not in Mr. Hyslop's mind, the organ would be a memorial to the giver and would carry his name. In accepting the instrument, the trustees of the church were instructed to cooperate with Mr. Hyslop in the selection and installation of the organ. A standard two manual organ suitable for such a building as the Baptist Church will be chosen.

ENGINEER KILLED AND FIVE INJURED IN A TRAIN CRASH

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—Engineer J. M. Fields of Rowley, N. C., was instantly killed, and five others, including two passengers, were injured when the Seaboard Airline, special No. 1, from New York to Havana, tore into the rear end of the mid-north special from Washington to Jacksonville, eighty-three miles south of Richmond. The special car of S. Davies Warfield, president of the road, on rear end of train No. 301, occupied by three negro porters, was completely demolished. The porters were slightly injured.

The Seaboard Line uses the absolute block system and the failure of a block operator to hold up one train is said to have caused the accident. All Seaboard trains are being detoured. Wrecking trains are on the scene.

PRESBYTERIANS TO HOLD MEETING HERE

A RELIGIOUS EDUCATION INSTITUTE FOR FEB. 14.

BASKET SUPPER PLANNED

Dr. W. D. Howell of Philadelphia and
Dr. Marion Humphreys to Be Here Then.

On Wednesday, February 14, there will be held here at the Presbyterian Church, an institute or conference on religious education and young peoples' work. Mr. W. D. Howell of Philadelphia, one of the general field representatives of the Presbyterian Board of Sabbath School Work and Publication, will be here that day. Hopkins, Graham and Maitland are grouped with the Maryville church for this conference.

This conference at Maryville is one of a series being conducted in St. Joseph Presbytery from February 9 to 18, with Mr. Howell as chief speaker. The other points are Cameron, Bethany, Grant City, King City, Fairfax, Oregon, Savannah, Albany and two in St. Joseph. The churches of St. Joseph Presbytery are divided into groups, and these conferences are held for the groups at the group center.

Mr. Howell is said to be one of the most able of the workers of the Presbyterian Board. During the summer he is in charge of summer conferences. This last season he was at Hollister, Mo., at the Presbyterian Young Peoples' Conference there. To the young people he is known as "Dad" Howell. He was one of the conference leaders at the meeting of the Synod of Missouri held at Marshall, Mo., last October.

In St. Joseph on Saturday, February 17, there will be held a demonstration of a Daily Vacation Bible School for the workers of the Presbytery. The last two years has seen an increase in the number of such schools. Two years ago the only one was here in Maryville. Last summer Tarkio, St. Joseph, King City and other points conducted schools. This conference in St. Joseph is the first step in preparation for the D. V. B. S. work of the Presbytery this coming summer.

Last year the Daily Vacation Bible School was put in the hands of an inter-church daily vacation Bible school committee, and so there will probably be a conference while Mr. Howell is in Maryville, to which all D. V. B. S. workers from all the churches will be invited. The Presbyterian Church also plans to have representatives in St. Joseph for the demonstration school there.

Plans are being worked out in detail for the institute here, which will probably include a basket supper at 6:30. With Mr. Howell in this institute work, will be Dr. Marion Humphreys, who is the executive or field secretary of this Presbytery.

MANY ORGANIZATIONS NOW FUNCTION AT HIGH SCHOOL

These are the boys' Literary club and the mathematics club. The boys literary club was formed this morning, with about twenty members. Floyd Cook was elected as president, Robert Mountjoy as vice-president, and John Givens as secretary-treasurer.

The mathematics club met for the first time this morning. Not much was done, but a definite program will soon be worked out.

H. S. GIRLS GAME TOMORROW BOYS PLAY SATURDAY NIGHT

Time of Games Decided This Afternoon
—Girls Play Burlington Junction
—Boys Meet Lafayette.

After some indecision it has been definitely decided to have the game between the Burlington Junction and Maryville High School girls tomorrow night. For a while it was planned to have the boys and girls play on Saturday evening, thus staging a double header. However, a call came from Burlington Junction desiring the game to be played Friday night, and so that will make two games on two successive nights.

On Saturday night the high school boys will meet the St. Joe Lafayette high school. Both games will be played at the high school.

BRITISH DEBT FOR A SOLDIER BONUS

ADVOCATES WOULD GIVE ENG-LISH MONEY TO SOLDIERS.

HARDING MAY APPROVE

His Chief Objection to Vetted Bill
Was Lack of Money to Pay It.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Great Britain's acceptance of the United States debt funding program, which according to plans, calculates at least 175 million dollars annual income to the treasury for the next half century, has opened the way for enactment of a soldier bonus bill acceptable to President Harding, congress bonus advocates declared today.

They were quick to seize upon announcement of Great Britain's acceptance, as a new basis of appeal for the bonus, to the Senate, House, and the administration.

President Harding centered his objections, as set forth in his message in which he vetoed the compensation bill passed last session, that the country could not permit such a large expense. This obstacle, advocates declare, has now been eliminated. It was learned officially, however, that Secretary of the treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, has said that according to the funding act, the money could be utilized for a bonus.

COLLEGE SECONDS LOSE TO ST. JOE JUNIOR COLLEGE

First String Men Go to Springfield for Two Games—Park Game
Cancelled

Playing in their first and possibly only basketball game of the season the State Teachers College second team lost last night to the St. Joseph Junior College by a score of 13 to 45. The men who played in the game are all second string men with exception of Ellis and Kirby, who went in the second half to get warmed up.

The trip to St. Joseph was made in cars and the second team returned last night. The first string men went on to Springfield, where they have games tonight and tomorrow.

The game with Park College at Parkville, which was scheduled for Saturday night, was called off this morning by the Parkville school.

The game last night started with Brown and Allan at forwards, Haun at center and Wilson and Pierpoint at guards. Mapel was substituted for Pierpoint, Egley for Allan, Ellis for Brown, Kirby for Mapel, Brown for Egley and Mapel for Kirby.

SKIDMORE MEN FOUND NOT GUILTY

APPEAL CASE FROM SKIDMORE
DECIDED FOR DEFENDANTS

HERNDON GET $142.50

Clifford Frost Was Fined $10 For Assault and Battery—Suit Filed for Rent.

Leslie Dawson, W. R. Fullerton, Ernest Montgomery, Ralph Johnson and Lester Linville of Skidmore were found not guilty of gaming by a jury in circuit court last evening. These men were arrested by Ray Strickler, city marshal of Skidmore, a few weeks ago on a charge of gaming and in the city police court at that town, J. O. Miller, mayor, fined these men after the defendants had presented no evidence. An appeal was granted to the circuit court here and the case came up late yesterday afternoon in circuit court and a night session of court was held last evening. The jury after being out a short time brought in a verdict of not guilty. The jury was composed of Roy Curfman, H. C. Irwin, Charles L. Rice, George Daniels, Bert Blatter, Murray Welling, Purd Ashford, Henry Heitman, Paul Bastford, Frank Reavis, Joe D. Thompson, and James Farrell.

Oscar Mutti, Samuel Robbins and Jacob Haas brought suit today against G. B. Gill on a contract. The plaintiffs allege $600 is due for past rent and that the defendant fails and refuses to pay same on the grounds that he is not satisfied as to whether the said rent is due and payable to the plaintiffs or to certain third parties.

Clifford Frost pleaded guilty in circuit court today to assault and battery and was fined $10.

BOY, SHOT THROUGH HEART, LEFT ON PORCH OF FATHER'S HOME.

Unidentified Man Leaves Body of La-vera Horner After Knocking on Door—Suspect Held.

Oklahoma City, Feb. 1.—Police this afternoon said that they were holding Floyd Felts of St. Joseph, as the man who brought Lavera Horner, shot through the heart, and left him on the porch of his father's home.

Oklahoma City, Feb. 1.—Awakened early this morning by a loud knock on his front door, J. A. Horner went to the door to discover his son, Lavera Horner, 24 years old, lying on the porch with a bullet in his heart. An unidentified man, in an auto, was driving away.

"What do you want?" Horner asked. "I have your son," the man replied. "Bring him in then, I want to talk to him," the father asked. "I can't, he is dead," the voice exclaimed.

This was the conversation as reported between the father of the slain boy and the unidentified man. The police are making a thorough investigation into the murder.

STAGE IS SET FOR FIGHT ON THE KANSAS INDUSTRIAL LAW

Gov. Davis To Go Before Legislature
Today To Urge Repeal—Suggests Industrial Commissioner

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 1.—The stage is set today for the fight on the proposal to repeal the Kansas Industrial Court Law.

Governor Jonathan M. Davis was to go before the legislature today with his recommendation that the law be repealed and to offer in its stead the proposed establishing of the office as of industrial commissioner.

The appointment to this office would be made by the governor with consent of the senate. He would perform the duties now invested in the industrial court and when disputes arise between capital and labor, under the terms of the bill, not less than two and not more than six members may be appointed to act as an "industrial board."

Both supporters and opponents to the proposed repeal were squaring themselves today for a hot fight over the measure.

DR. WORK SUCCESSOR TO SEC. A. B. FALL?

WILL HEAD INTERIOR DEPART-MENT, 'TAS LEARNED TODAY.

OTHER CHANGES POSSIBLE

New or Lasker Will Become Postmaster-
General—Mont Bolly and Chas.
Forbes to Go.

By George R. Holmes
International News Correspondent.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(Copyright 1923.) Dr. Hubert Work, of Colorado, who came inconspicuously to the government as assistant postmaster-general to Will H. Hays, and later succeeded Hays, will succeed Albert B. Fall, as Secretary of the Interior, it was learned authoritatively today. President Harding has informed intimate friends that he intends to transfer Dr. Work to the Interior Department, and the news is expected to stop the headlong rush of a dozen candidates for the post, most of them Republican "lame ducks."

Official announcement of the change however will be held up until the announcement of the postmaster-general can be made at the same time. This had not been definitely decided yet today. It was reported in high Republican circles that the job would be given to Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, a warm personal friend and an old colleague of President Harding in the Senate.

Senator New will retire from the Senate at the close of the present session. Another friend of President Harding, who has been suggested for the place is Albert B. Lasker, present chairman of the shipping board, who has informed Harding that he will retire on March 4, regardless of what happens to the ship subsidy bill now facing uncertain fate in the fast dying Congress.

March 4, likewise marks the death of the Sixty-seventh Congress, and also the halfway point of President Harding's administration. It will probably mark the changing of other high officials in the government, although it has been denied that there would be other cabinet shifts.

These changes will probably be announced at the White House after the close of Congress, and before Harding leaves for his trip to Florida. The Lasker resignation will create a vacancy on the shipping board. It was rumored today that ex-Senator John F. Frelinghausen, of New Jersey, who was among those defeated at the November election, would fill the place.

March 4 will also mark the retirement of E. Mont Reilly as governor of Porto Rico, and Charles R. Forbes, head of the Veterans' Bureau. General Clarence Edwards, who is experienced in insular work, will be selected to replace Reilly in Porto Rico, and Col. Thomas W. Miller will head the veterans' activities, it was learned today.

The appointment of Gen. Edwards will be acceptable to the people of Porto Rico, who have been making an unceasing drive to oust Reilly. Miller's selection to the veterans' post is expected to quiet the criticism directed towards that department by the American Legion and other veteran organizations, because he was one of the pioneers of the Legion and has played an important part in its councils. ## NEW RUHR STATE IS SEEN IN NEXT MOVE

SEPARATION OF RUHR FROM GER-

Appeals of Fritz Thyssen and Other German Mine Officials Dismissed—Pope Worried.

Paris, Feb. 1.—The allies, (France and Belgium), are preparing to separate the Ruhr and the Rhineland from the rest of Germany. The L'Oueve announced today. It is believed to be the first definite step towards the formation of a new state in the Rhineland.

Mayence, Feb. 1.—The appeals of Fritz Thyssen and other German mine officials in the Ruhr district, who were fined by the French military court, were dismissed this afternoon by the court. The Germans were notified that they must pay the fines imposed.

Rome, Feb. 1.—Worried over the Ruhr situation and the possibility of war as the result of the French invasion into Germany, Pope Pius 11 today appealed for pacification.

As exclusively told by the International News a week ago, the Pope is deeply anxious over the conditions in central Europe. He fears not only war but a "Red wave of bolshevism."

REMARKABLE JANUARY WEATHER FOR MARYVILLE

Mean Temperature Far Above Normal,
Higher Than Ever Registered
Here in January Before.

The weather in Maryville during January was unusually mild and dry, and has been most remarkable, as shown by the summary of J. R. Brink, weather observer. The mean temperature, 34.2 degrees, is 12 degrees above normal and 4.2 degrees higher than ever before registered at this station in January. The mean temperature for January, 1914, was 30 degrees and it was 30 in January, 1921.

Temperature extremes were 11 on January 5 and 58 on Jan. 17, thus giving a monthly range of only 47 degrees, which is the smallest January range on the local weather record. The highest temperature for any January was in 1895 when it went up to 66. The lowest on record here was in January, 1912 when the mercury went down to 28 below.

Precipitation amounted to .23 of an inch. The snowfall during the month amounted to one-half of an inch. The normal precipitation for January is 1.19 inches. The lightest was .05 of an inch in 1908 and the greatest 2.98 in 1898. The lightest snow fall was a trace in January, 1900, and the greatest snowfall was in January, 1898, when they had 17 inches of snow.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

For County Superintendent of Schools.

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for superintendent of schools for Nodaway County, subject to the decision of the voters at the school election on Tuesday, April 3, 1923.

LESLIE G. SOMERVILLE.

A good many fellows are jokes without a point.

Selling eggs is considerable of a shell game after all.

Somebody wants to make the Government bureau fireproof. Suppose we make them foolproof at the same time.

Day by day in every way the days are getting longer and longer.

A newspaper headline says "Hogs still advancing," and this is an advance more interesting to the people of this country than the advance of the French into Germany.

Senator Underwood who received 117 votes for president in the 1912 Democratic convention, is again being mentioned for president, and it may be suggested that he is about the best timber now in sight. He is a strong, well balanced man.

Any doubt about whether the eighteenth amendment is endorsed by the American people must be grounded upon the general and growing disregard for law. The same spirit that leads one class of men to evade the tax laws, another to disregard the traffic laws, another to defy the gambling laws, leads others to try to disregard the prohibition laws. In prior years men took greater liberty with city and state laws because of laxity in their enforcement and the greater probability of being able to escape adequate punishment but they had great respect for federal laws because they were supposed to be enforced without fear or favor. Of late years, since the federal government has undertaken such vast undertakings that it is not possible to properly cover the ground, there has been a growing disposition to regard these laws with less fear. The country is lapsing into an unwholesome mood that must undermine the stability of our government in future years if continued. It is up to the good citizens of every community to awaken and lend their help and encouragement to all honest officers of the law.

VOTES FOR RADIO CONTROL.

House Passes Bill Providing Regulation of Wireless.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The federal radio control bill, vesting broad powers in the department of commerce for regulation and supervision of all phases of wireless telegraph and telephone communication, was passed yesterday by the house.

The bill is intended to bring order out of the chaos in air as the result of thousands of stations competing on similar wave lengths. Licenses would be required from all transmitting operators except government employees, and the secretary of commerce would assign wave lengths to various stations and supervise when necessary their sending periods.

A section of the bill dealing with possible monopolies of the wireless business of the nation vests in the secretary the power to refuse or revoke licenses where a monopoly is threatened.

Army, navy and all other government stations, although exempt from the licensing provisions, would be required to conform to the rules when handling commercial or other non-government business. The assigning of wave lengths for the government plants would be in the hands of the President.

The bill provides for an advisory committee consisting of men appointed by various department heads, radio experts and amateurs to keep abreast of development and needs of the wireless industry.

Amateur receiving stations would not be affected by the bill, and amateur transmitters would have a special series of wave lengths set aside for them.

RELATIVE DESCRIBES SCENES ON MORNING OF LINCOLN'S BIRTH

Dunham Wright, a relative of Abraham Lincoln, lives at Medical Springs, Oregon. He is eighty years old. While riding on horseback through eastern Oregon, I stopped overnight at his home, and he told me of his boyhood life of seventy-five years ago. Writes Fred Lockley in McClure's Magazine for February.

"I was born in Burlington, Vermont, March 13, 1842," said Mr. Wright. "My father, John D. Wright, was born in Virginia in 1807, and moved to Illinois just before he came of age."

"It was just about this time that the Hanks and Lincoln families also moved to Illinois. My father married Celia Hanks. She was the cousin of Abraham Lincoln."

My mother died when I was six years old and I went to live with her father and mother, William and Elizabeth Hanks.

"My grandmother was a midwife. In those days the people on the frontier had to get along without doctors, and even if there had been doctors, a doctor was never called except when a person's life was despaired of."

"One time Thomas Lincoln came to my grandmother and told her that her services would be required before long. But the little chap put in appearance before he was expected. So, early in the morning of February 12, 1809, Thomas Lincoln pulled the latch-string of my grandmother's cabin door and said to my grandmother, 'Elizabeth, Nancy has a boy baby; you had better come over to our house.'"

Grandmother was getting breakfast, so she hurried up the breakfast, put it on the table, and walked two miles to the Lincoln cabin on the hillside.

"When grandmother got to Lincoln's cabin, she pulled the latch-string, entered the room, and saw Mrs. Lincoln lying in bed. 'How are you Nancy?' she asked. 'I am comfortable,' said Mrs. Lincoln, and she turned the bed-covers back and showed my grandmother the new boy. Grandmother put a kettle of water on over the fireplace, stirring up the fire, and a few minutes later was giving the baby its first bath."

"I have often heard my grandmother tell how she dressed the newly arrived baby. She put a little slip on him, and outside of this she put on one made of hard-spun cloth, hand-woven. It was home dyed and light yellow in color."

"My grandmother loaned Abraham the Bible from which he took his first lessons. This Bible was given to me by my grandfather, and I still have it. 'Abe's mother did not live long. Her funeral sermon was preached by Parson Elkins.'"

FEED REQUIRED TO FATTEN CARLOAD OF LIVE STOCK

How much feed does it take to fatten a carload of cattle, hogs, or sheep? Here are some figures based on investigations by the United States Department of Agriculture:

Six hundred bushels of corn and 17 tons of hay will fatten 250 lambs weighing 55 pounds each and make them weigh 80 pounds. This will make 1 double-deck carload.

Four hundred and fifty bushels of corn and 2,750 pounds of tankage or fish meal will fatten 70 hogs averaging 100 pounds, to 200 pounds, making 1 carload.

One thousand one hundred bushels of corn, 10 tons of alfalfa hay, and 5 tons of straw will fatten 20 steers averaging 850 pounds making them gain 425 pounds each in 180 days. This is an average carload.

TWO PLAYS THIS MORNING PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCE

Were Given at Weekly Assembly at the College by the Dramatics Club

The two one-act plays which were presented at the State Teachers College this morning by the College Dramatics Club were well received by a large audience. This was the regular assembly of the College. Instead of Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock the assembly was held one day later this week.

The first play, "Poor Old Jim," was a farce and kept the audience in an uproar most of the time. The different parts were well played. Miss Lucille Brumbaugh, playing the part of Marie, the wife, did well as did Perry Eads, the doctor and William Mapel, Jim.

"The Beau of Bath," a poetic fantasy with Misses Laveta Epperson, Florence McDonald and Jeanette Brock, taking the parts was very beautiful.

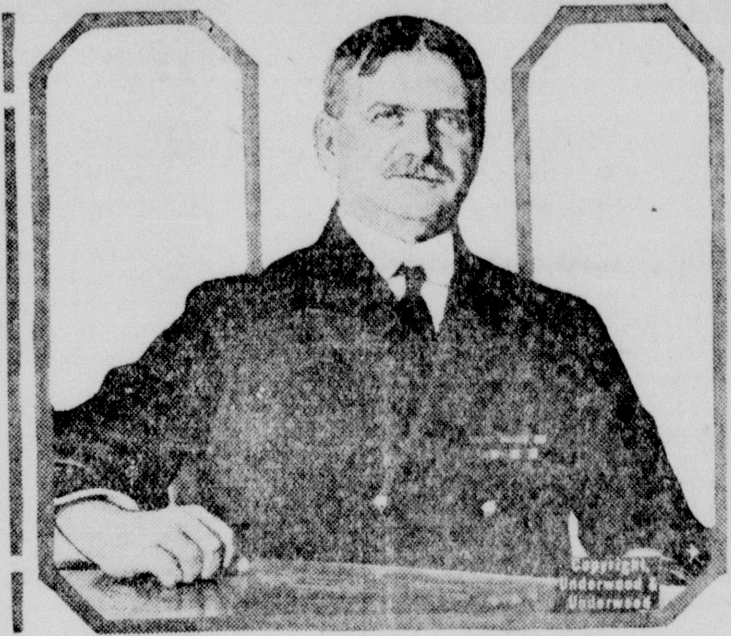

The College orchestra played during the program.

Admiral Coontz has made it an invariable rule to have no litter of papers on his desk at any time and those who know him and what he accomplishes often ask, "How do you do it?" But the admiral smilingly refuses to divulge the secret of his ability to keep his desk cleared.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

THE KING OF LIARS

SO FAR as successful impostures are concerned, Giuseppe Balsamo, better known by his adopted title of "Count Cagliostro" was undoubtedly the most remarkable man the world has ever produced, for he not only numbered his victims by the thousands but practiced his chosen art of lying with such consummate cleverness that he victimized cardinals and princes as well as peasants and the various classes lying between these categories. He was, in truth, "the king of liars," beside whom such modern examples of Cassie Chadwick and Ponzi were the rankest amateurs.

As a boy, Balsamo gave early evidence of his scheming tendencies, and after being expelled from school, was placed in the apothecary shop of a Sicilian monastery, where he set about to master the science of chemicals and drugs, for which he appeared to have a positive genius. It was while in the apothecary's shop that Balsamo sold to a credulous peasant the secret of a mythical "treasure cave" which was supposed to be near by, but, when the purchaser of the secret went to examine the cave, he was set upon by a "devil" (Balsamo himself) and beaten nearly to death. For this escapade, Giuseppe was banished from Sicily and fled to Rome, where he succeeded in marrying a strikingly beautiful woman and changed his name to "Count Cagliostro."

His first venture on a large scale was the invention of an "elixir of life" of which he sold many thousand bottles at fabulous prices and, in order to prove the value of his own medicine, claimed to be more than 2,000 years old and to have been present at the time of the crucifixion, which he described with a wealth of detail omitted from the Scriptures. At that time there was much talk of the "Wandering Jew" and many persons believed that Cagliostro was none other than this personage—a belief which the Sicilian took care to foster whenever possible.

When the success of the "elixir of life" appeared to be imperiled by the death of a number of persons who had taken it, Cagliostro hit upon the scheme of organizing Masonic lodges for women, claiming that he was of divine origin and had received a special mission to perform this work upon earth—a statement which naturally endeared him to a number of women of sufficient wealth to assist him in the accomplishment of his other schemes, which included the making of diamonds and precious stones and the transmutation of base metals into gold.

By virtue of his various impostures, Cagliostro was able to accumulate a large amount of money and, when he decided to move the headquarters of his influence to France, it was a matter of only a few days before he became the most talked of man in Paris. It was he who used the Cardinal de Rohan, Grand Almoner of France and one of the shrewdest statesmen in Europe, in the tragic affair of the diamond necklace, which brought disgrace or imprisonment upon everyone implicated, including the Italian himself, who was imprisoned in the Bastille in 1786, but was finally acquitted and ordered to leave France.

After drifting about Europe for a number of years, the prince of impostors finally returned to Rome and was condemned by the pope to life imprisonment as a dangerous foe to religion, dying in a papal dungeon on August 26, 1795, after having duped all Europe, prince and priest and peasant alike. But, apart from Cagliostro's strange and almost hypnotic influence over practically everyone with whom he came in contact, there are a number of mysteries concerning the man which have never been explained—including his origin and his exceptional ability for handling all kinds of strange chemicals. In addition, there is the greatest mystery of all: His power of prophecy manifested upon numerous occasions, but particularly when he announced that Maria Theresa, empress of Austria, was dying, and word reached Paris five days later that the empress had succumbed at the very hour foretold by the Italian count. Again, during his incarceration in the Bastille, Cagliostro wrote upon the walls of his cell: "Within three years the Bastille shall be destroyed and the people shall dance upon its site"—another prophecy which was carried out to the letter.

MAY LEGISLATE ON MISSOURI RAILROADS

NINETEEN BILLS NOW PENDING IN LEGISLATURE.

WOULD CONTROL RATES

Some of Measures are for Safety, Some for Economy and Some About Damages.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 1. — Missouri railroads are threatened with more drastic legislation at this session of the general assembly than at any previous time since the anti-railroad agitation from 1909 to 1911. In the session of 1911, thirteen bills were passed hitting the railroads. Among them was the full crew law. Since that time, railroad representatives here say, the Missouri legislature has enacted few laws injurious to the transportation lines.

Nineteen bills, five of them duplicates in the house and senate, are now pending to control the rates, operation and equipment of the railroads. That number does not include many bills to curb or abolish the public service commission, which have resulted from public dissatisfaction with railroads and utilities.

The railroads have a lobby here to protect their interests. Supporting most of the railroad bills are R. T. Wood, president of the state federation of labor, and representatives of the brotherhoods. Labor has shown its hostility largely due to the failure of the shopmen's strike.

There is a more powerful influence—the farmers, who are dissatisfied with the high freight rates and service.

One of the most drastic measures would provide Elysian conditions for car repairs. The bill would require railroads to provide buildings to protect the workers when the job takes more than thirty minutes, except in emergency cases, or where provided otherwise by federal law.

Hearings by the house railroad committee on this and several equipment bills began yesterday.

The bill fixing a maximum passenger fare of 2 1/2 cents has been dropped, it is reported.

The house committee has reported favorably a measure penalizing the railroads $15 a day for failing to furnish stock cars within ninety-six hours. This bill was amended to meet some of the objections of the railroads.

Another bill provides a penalty for operating a freight train more than 2,640 feet long. This is a full crew measure in a new form, the railroads say.

TO REQUIRE ELECTRICAL HAND SIGNALS FOR THE OIL SIGNAL LANTERS HAS BEEN KILLED BY THE COMMITTEE.

The railroads have agreed to the amendments to a bill to require cabooses to have all-steel underframes and platforms at both ends.

The committee has acted favorably on a measure to require freight trains to stop for unloading livestock and grain. The effect will be to slow up freight trains. It will be difficult to reconcile this measure with one pending, requiring all freight shipments to move at least sixty miles a day.

Other railroad legislation pending is: To require signaling devices at crossings where watchmen are not maintained.

To require lamps and air pumps to be changed to different positions on locomotives.

A bill relating to half-deck and full-deck locomotives and to compel the discontinuing of half-deck locomotives.

A bill that would cost the railroads many thousands of dollars, requiring engines to have power-driven wheel brakes and appliances for operating train brakes, a fire door operated by push-buttons and mechanically operated shakers.

To authorize reduced passenger fare to the blind, which is not opposed by the railroads.

To reimburse and award damages to employees when division points or terminals are removed.

The College Commerce Club dispensed with its regular business meeting last night to attend the movies in a line party. There were thirty-one in the bunch, who paraded uptown before going to the show. All were dressed in their hobo costumes of the day.

Next Wednesday, at their regular meeting, Roy Hanna, cashier of the First National Bank, and Joe Mildred, will talk to the club upon banking as a profession.

HOME TALENT AT GAYNOR.

The "Dee-strick School" of Fifty Years Ago to Be Presented Wednesday Night, February 14. (Hopkins Journal)

"Over and over I live them again. Those glad happy school days of long, long ago. The old fashioned red school house with its well-whittled benches. Where the boys and girls all sat in a row. O, fond recollections, we ask thee to tarry. Be a guest in our midst, make merry with us.

Turn backward life's pages once more we are children; Thou'rt exceedingly kind to, favor us thus."

Much interest is being manifested in the entertainment "The Dee-strick School of Fifty Years Ago," which is being prepared by the patrons and teacher of the Gaynor school, to be given Wednesday evening, Feb. 14, at 7:45.

Will Stickle is the stern, dignified school-master who doesn't believe in sparing the rod and spoiling the child. The three school committeemen are John Garrard, Frank Edwards and Grant Munn. Seventeen pupils are enrolled: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nigh, Mrs. Will Stickle, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reddick, John Koger, Mrs. Grant Munn, Chris Otto, Mrs. Frank Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Beaton Prather, Mrs. Elva Grim-it, Mrs. George Hepburn, Mr. and Mrs. Will Sparks, George Hepburn, "a little boy four years of age," visits school-master who doesn't believe in sparing the rod and spoiling the child.

The last day of an old-fashioned school is represented. In the morning are the usual reading, writing and arithmetic classes. Plenty of fun is provided by pupils "cutting up" when the master isn't looking.

In the afternoon a most enjoyable programme of speaking pieces, singing, songs, fiddling, selection on the accordion and dialogues, is given by the "children." The committeemen are present at the afternoon exercises and each "makes a speech."

TRAVELED IN A BOX

For five days Ira Colver Sparks of Peru, Ind., lived in a wooden box aboard a Japanese steamer bound from San Francisco to Honolulu, and kept alive on tinned food and water. Sparks gave himself up at Honolulu. He obtained the box in San Francisco, got a bill of lading and shipped the box as freight with himself inside. As Sparks is an American he cannot be an immigrant, and as he had $15 in his pockets and also carried a set of carpenter's tools he cannot be a vagrant, and as he arrived by freight he cannot be called a passenger, and as the customs duties are unpaid the Honolulu authorities hesitate to send him back; which is why they are puzzled.

Radio to Prevent Mine Disasters.

The movements of 500 men engaged on construction work on a tunnel located 30 miles from headquarters in the Sierra Madre mountains, of California, will be directed this winter by means of a radio station in the office of the resident engineer. The installation of a broadcasting station underground augurs the development of radio for controlling the activities of miners and other workmen in shafts, drifts and stopes elsewhere.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so nervous in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I got down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It soothes remarkably, dispelling the tension, relaxation and distention of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their consequent mother's distress during pregnancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse, we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid more graces and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

RICH GEMS FOUND

IN INDIAN MOUND.

Necklace Valued at $15,000 Is Unearthed From Hopewell Grave in Ohio.

Chillicothe, O., Feb. 1.—Information that a necklace, valued at $15,000, containing 300 fresh water pearls, was unearthed from the Hopewell Indian Mound, near Chillicothe, last summer has just been made public.

Dr. W. C. Mills, director of the Ohio State Archaeological Society, said: "This is the finest necklace ever found among the mound builders' relics." The gems are the property of the state. An offer of $15,000 for them was refused. Several of the gems were polished and in perfect condition. The majority, however, were imperfect.

At the big Pricer Mound, near Bainbridge, another valuable find was made recently, when a ceremonial quartz spearhead, over 14 inches in length, was dug up. This is the largest spearhead ever found in Ohio. The valuable relic had been washed out of the mound onto the property of Mrs. Mary Wood. It is now in the possession of the State Archaeological Society.

A grand rush of mound openers is expected in this vicinity this spring and summer, due to the recent valuable finds.

Ground Hogs

Quaint Lore Of Groundhog Day

(By D. C. Summers in the Kansas City Journal).

Tomorrow is Candlemas day, generally known and referred to by the average citizen of this land of multitudinous woodchucks as "Groundhog Day."

The groundhog was reputed to be an expert on the signs of Candlemas long before the advent of official weather forecasters. Since then considerable feeling has existed between the two factions, each side claiming to deal out the only authentic forecasts. So in presenting the groundhog's version no mention is made of the predictions of P. Connor, or others of his profession. Moreover, they have a daily opportunity at the forecasting business, whereas the groundhog has only one precarious opportunity in a twelvemonth.

During the winter solstice, B'r'er Ground Hog doesn't take much interest in things, preferring to keep warm in his hole, but on February 2 he bestirs himself and comes out to look for his shadow.

"Afraid of His Shadow." Incidentally, if he were an Indian chief he would be called "Man-Afraid of His Shadow." The woodchuck feels that way, and before he starts out for a walk he looks about. If the shadow appears there is no more fun for him. He goes home again, thoroughly convinced that there will be at least six weeks more of genuine winter weather.

If he does not find his unpleasant visit he is satisfied that there is going to be an early spring, and he goes away to select a summer home.

The country folk of old time watched the groundhog and believed in him. With him they concluded that sunshine was not a good thing on Candlemas, and they embodied their belief in such verses as this:

The hind has as his foe
His wife on the bier
As that Candlemas day
Should be pleasant and clear.
An Old Version.

"The Country Almanac" in 1676 came out with this version of the story: Poul weather is no news; hail, rain and snow.

Are now expected, and esteem'd no woe; Nay, 'tis an omen bid, the yeomen say, If Phoebus shows his face the second day.

Though they expected foul weather,

PHONE EXPERIMENT

Human Organ Played Important Part in Discovering Theory Of Magnetic Telephone.

In 1873 Alexander Graham Bell evolved the theory of the telephone and had a vision of country-wide telephone service, "with millions of miles of wires, so that one town could communicate with another town and man with man."

In 1874 the theory of the magnetic telephone was completed. In 1876 the invention was perfected. Today there are 22,750,000 telephones in the world, of which 14,500,000 are in the United States.

The fascinating story of the invention of the telephone, which begins in 1873 when Bell, then a professor in Boston University, was experimenting in the hours that were his own and dreaming daring dreams, is told in McClure's Magazine for February.

A dead man's ear was a part of the baggage that the young professor used in his experiments early in the summer of 1874. The ear had been furnished and its use suggested by Dr. Clarence J. Blake of Boston, an authority whom Bell had consulted regarding the mechanism of the ear.

He moistened the dead ear with glycerine to make it flexible once more, placed in it a piece of hay, and when he spoke in the ear saw the hay vibrate. Under the bit of hay he put a piece of smoked glass to record the vibrations, and the instrument for study was complete.

Patiently, hour after hour, day after day he poured into that dead ear all the varieties of human speech; he shouted, he whispered, talked, and sang, and repeated long lists of vowels first in one pitch and then another but always he made the smoked-glass record, and there followed long hours of pondering over the significance of the traceries.

Then, one day, the great idea came. Dr. Bell himself, in telling of it a few years ago, said:

"It struck me that the bones of the human ear were very massive indeed as compared with the delicate, thin membranes which operated them and the thought occurred that if a membrane so delicate could move bones relatively so massive, why should not a thicker and stouter membrane move my piece of steel?"

"And the telephone was conceived."

"The magnetic telephone was complete in theory in the summer of 1871; and yet, on account of the skepticism when I returned to Boston in the autumn of that year, I did not try to make it. What I tried to do was to amplify the undulations."

On June 2, 1875, at a building at 109 Court Street, Boston, Bell was working with his assistant, Watson. Watson was keeping a transmitter in motion, while Bell, sixty feet away in another room, was holding a receiver to his ear, trying to adjust its tone.

Something went wrong with the spring on the transmitter, and Watson plucked it to start it going. His action was followed by a shout from Bell, who came rushing into the room exclaiming:

"What did you do then? Don't change anything. Let me see!"

He had heard the full twang of the piece of clock-spring over the wire, a sound of vast portent, for it was the birth-cry of the telephone.

Quarters better adapted for their work were found at 5, Exeter Place, and a line of wire run from the attic to the basement. There, on the 10th of March, 1876, Watson, listening intently at the receiver, was thrilled to hear distinctly and unmistakably the words:

"Mr. Watson, please come here; I want you."

Dropping the receiver, he rushed up the intervening flights of stairs, shouting to Bell:

"I can hear you! I could hear the words!"

The telephone was now an accomplished fact. Improvement and development were all that were needed to make it the perfect instrument that it is today.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could barely do my housework and washing. I was so run-down, just from having one child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

BABE ADAMS ACCEPTS

PIRATE CONTRACT AGAIN

Gives Up Plan to Join Kenosha Independent Team.

Bethany, Mo., Feb. 1.—Babe Adams, veteran pitcher of the Pittsburgh National league baseball clubs, last night announced he had accepted terms to pitch for the Pirates this summer.

Adams and Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, who came here yesterday afternoon, went into a hasty conference. There was much dickering, persuading, pleading, a flash of an attractive bonus, promises of various descriptions and a few other odds and ends of happenings that were not given out for publication at the session, during which Adams insisted, for nearly two hours, he could make more money at Kenosha, Wis., playing independent ball than he could with the Pirates.

A heavy exchange of telegrams between McKechnie and Barney Dreyfuss took place during the late afternoon and evening. In the end it was decided that Adams should receive approximately $9,000 a year for a term of years not made public.

Adams a few days ago announced he would retire from "professional baseball" and accept a three-year contract at Kenosha, Wis., where he would work one game a week and stall around as a foreman or time-keeper of an ice plant, Dick Kerr, former White Sox heavier, and Hippo Vaughn, the old Club pitcher, are members of the Kenosha club.

Bill McKechnie will spend a day or so here with Babe Adams and then return to Pittsburgh and complete plans for building up his Pirate machine for the 1923 National league grind.

A YOUTH'S DOWNFALL IS BLAMED ON H. S. "FRATS"

"High Life" of High School Blamed by Detroit Man for Ruination of His Son.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 1.—Detroit high school fraternity "high life" started his son, A. E. Charlesworth, Jr., on the downward path, declares A. E. Charlesworth, Detroit optician.

Young Charlesworth, according to a dispatch from Los Angeles, has been sentenced to 14 years in San Quentin for forgery.

Charlesworth, an ex-service man, became stranded in France after the war and "bummed" his way back to the United States.

"My son's downfall began back in 1916 when he was a high school student and a member of a school fraternity," says the father. "He indulged in the high life of other fraternity brothers. Some of them were the sons of rich men. The influence of fraternity life was unwholesome on him. His mind never seemed the same after he joined the fraternity. Fraternities are nefarious; they led my boy wrong; I place blame for his downfall on them."

TABERNACLE REVIVAL A SUCCESS AT CLEARMONT.

The tabernacle revival was a great success at Clearmont according to a letter received this morning by the Rev. and Mrs. Tillman R. Braddy who conducted the meeting. The following is what Mr. Braddy says of the meeting:

With an estimated attendance of over 11,000 people and with 121 "Decision cards" signed and with 10 young people volunteering for missionary work, some medical, some teaching and some nursing, etc., and with a number of family altars established and a tither's league a success and a large audience giving the chautauqua to Evangelist Tillman R. Braddy and wife, the four weeks' union tabernacle revival closed Sunday night. A substantial offering being made to Rev. and Mrs. Braddy by the people of Clearmont and northern Nodaway County. The work at Clearmont was hard and delightful. Mr. and Mrs. Braddy will rest in St. Joseph before opening their fourth meeting since last October.

The Clearmont meeting is being continued for two weeks under the direction of the Rev. Oliver Reed, who last week finished a successful meeting at Hopkins.

The class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday mornings, during activity hour. The time is to be devoted to calisthenics, folk-dancing, and gymnastics games. Mary Todd is pianist for the class.

Mrs. Manley says that the class promises to be a fine one. The girls that belong to the class are all interested in gym work, and the class will be instructive and helpful to them. Mrs. Manley intends to have the class put on, at least, one public exhibition before school closes.
